Covering a wide range of applied finance topics, this specialised master’s course leads to careers in corporate banking and finance, stock market trading, insurance, investment management and other areas of applied finance.

The curriculum complements the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) program, with topics including risk management, capital markets, and international finance. Candidates preparing for the CFA qualification are encouraged to enrol in the Master of Applied Finance as a preparatory course.

The course will develop and expand your skills to manage IT infrastructure projects, determine enterprise systems requirements, analyse organisational data for business intelligence, lead information systems strategies, manage supply chains, and apply emerging technologies across the enterprise.

A major focus of the course is developing your ability to work with IT teams to improve operations. For example, in the Enterprise Information Systems unit you will learn to:

- Conduct a feasibility analysis for ERP acquisition and make a justified recommendation
- Efficiently navigate and access information in an ERP system
- Liaise with vendors and software specialists in configuring and customising ERP systems

The Master of Business Information and Logistics Management will also develop your capacity to oversee a portfolio of strategic projects. Topics include project creation and planning; scheduling, network analysis and resource management; control of projects during their development and execution phases; organising the project team; and benefits realisation. You will be able to apply project management skills, tools and techniques in a realistic setting, making use of standard project management software.

Scholarship conditions

The University of Western Australia is offering scholarships to high achieving students who accept offers for entry into the specified masters programs in 2016, 2017 or 2018. Students will be required to indicate acceptance of their offer and the scholarship no more than two weeks after issue date.

For GPA assessment, the mark calculated by the applicant’s undergraduate university over the full degree is used to determine eligibility.

For non-GPA transcripts, a percentage for the final two years, including all failed attempts is used to determine eligibility.

The scholarship will be offered for the duration of the course as stated on the University’s offer letter, with the expectation that a student will undertake a 100% load (usually 48 points per year) and will not be extended if a student fails to complete with the stated time. Where credit is awarded and impacts on the load taken, UWA will consider these instances on an individual basis.

The scholarship is conditional on a formal assessment and written offer from the University’s admissions team in Perth.
