The University of Western Australia invites high achieving international students to apply for a masters by coursework scholarship with the Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry and Health Sciences.

Postgraduate scholarships support The University of Western Australia’s position as one of Australia’s leading universities and the premier research institution in Western Australia.

The masters by coursework international scholarship program is awarded to students who have demonstrated academic excellence in their undergraduate study and will undertake an applicable masters by coursework program with the UWA Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry and Health Sciences in 2016, 2017 or 2018.

The value of each scholarship is determined by the applicant’s undergraduate academic achievement and is awarded based on one of three levels:
- AUD $3000 per year; or
- AUD $5000 per year; or
- AUD $7000 per year.

Eligibility
The scholarships are available to students who have achieved the minimum academic results from an applicable country and have applied to study an applicable program. Please refer to the Eligibility brochure at studyat.uwa.edu.au/international/masters-scholarships

Applicable countries
Citizens of Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, Oceania, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam.

Applicable masters courses
Health Professions Education
For health professionals who seek to develop their knowledge and skills in health professional education. Fundamental issues in health professional education are addressed by fostering interdisciplinary discussion and collaboration, whilst developing knowledge and skills as educators within their field.

Public Health
Public Health studies provide a foundation in the disciplines of epidemiology, biostatistics, health economics and health promotion for current professionals interested in moving into a wide range of health related industries. Studies also focus on the broader social context in which public health programs are planned, delivered and evaluated.

Social Work
This is for students with an undergraduate degree in a relevant field who would like to pursue a professional qualification in social work. The course is accredited by the Australian Association of Social Workers (AASW).
Infectious Diseases
This course is aimed at science based and medical professionals seeking advanced training in the field of infectious diseases. Topics covered include Medical Microbiology, Tropical Infectious Diseases and Public and Environmental Health Microbiology, with an emphasis on practical classes in PathWest laboratories.

Clinical Pathology
The Master of Clinical Pathology (MCP) is an exciting new initiative of the School of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine designed to provide graduates with a vocationally focussed, research relevant degree, developed and delivered in collaboration with Industry. The Master of Clinical Pathology will extend the participants undergraduate learning in the biomedical sciences with a focus on the knowledge and technical skill set required for research or employment in the diagnostic and research environments of clinical pathology.

Scholarship conditions
- The University of Western Australia is offering scholarships to high achieving students who accept offers for entry into the specified masters programs in 2016, 2017 or 2018. Students will be required to indicate acceptance of their offer and the scholarship no more than two weeks after issue date.
- For GPA assessment, the mark calculated by the applicant’s undergraduate university over the full degree is used to determine eligibility.
- For non-GPA transcripts, a percentage for the final two years, including all failed attempts is used to determine eligibility.
- The scholarship will be offered for the duration of the course as stated on the University’s offer letter, with the expectation that a student will undertake a 100% load (usually 48 points per year) and will not be extended if a student fails to complete with the stated time. Where credit is awarded and impacts on the load taken, the University will consider these instances on an individual basis.
- The scholarship is conditional on a formal assessment and written offer from the University’s admissions team in Perth.
